PUBLICATION OF THIS DOCUMENT APPROVED BY ALFRED C. HOLLAND, STATE PURCHASING AGENT.

Estimated Cost Per Copy: $2.05

This directory provides descriptions of private school programs approved for placement of special needs students under the provisions of Chapter 766. Only those programs which fall within program prototypes 502.5 and 502.6, as defined in the Chapter 766 Regulations, are described here; these include approved workshop programs with an educational component and pre-school programs which serve only special needs children.

Workshop programs with no educational component are not included since they fall within prototype 502.11(b). Pre-school programs which serve an integrated population -- while eligible placements--have also not been included, due to space limitations. Information on these pre-school programs (which are primarily local in nature), and those fee-for-service programs (e.g., after-school services, tutoring, clinics, diagnostic evaluation services, etc.) that fall within program prototypes other than 502.5 or 502.6, should be available at the office of the Administrator of Special Education in the local public school.

The directory groups the program descriptions according to Department of Education regions to facilitate the placement of students within the geographical area where they reside. An alphabetical index is also provided at the end of the directory, listing each school and the region in which it is located.

The program descriptions were supplied by the private schools themselves, with the result that the terminology and narrative styles vary somewhat from program to program. For clarification or further information regarding the programs, please contact either the appropriate regional office or the private school directly. (Those approved schools which did not provide program descriptions are listed at the beginning of each regional section.) Rate information for each school was compiled by the Division of Special Education, based upon the most recently updated rates promulgated by the Massachusetts Rate Setting Commission. To obtain further information on rates and fees for services, please contact your regional office of the Division.

The schools included in this first edition of the directory are all those approved as of August 15, 1966. Each was approved by the appropriate Regional Review Board, or the State Review Board in the case of program located outside of Massachusetts, for a period of one year. As additional programs are approved/disapproved, the Division will print new program descriptions and information on program changes, and disseminate them to the regional offices at least twice a year. The loose-leaf format of the directory should facilitate the incorporation of this updated information.

For any corrections to this directory (e.g., phone numbers, admission ages, address changes, etc.), please contact the Office of Child Placement & Registry, Division of Special Education at 617-727-5440.

The following is a break-out of the residential programs and the corresponding regional area where the program descriptions are listed.

Each student has an individualized program focusing on individual strengths and weaknesses, with a behavioral management approach to learning included. The teacher-student ratio is 1 to 6.

Supportive services include L.D. tutoring, psychological testing, audiological testing, individual and group counseling; services for parents including individual, family and group therapy, parent education and parent guidance. All existing services are based on the needs of each student.

Residential. After the completion of the day program, each residential student is supervised by a counselor living in a group care environment. Planned activities are scheduled on a weekly basis with a dormitory counselor-student ratio of 1 to 7. In addition, volunteers and graduate students in our work/study program augment the residential staff in recreational and supervisory activities.

Preschool. Preschool is either in the morning and/or afternoon depending on the capabilities of each student. In conjunction with the program parents are involved in educational or therapeutic counseling to better understand the needs of their children.

ADAPT is a program for multiply-handicapped hearing impaired children with a teacher-student ratio of 1 to 2. ADAPT students are integrated into the regular school program for physical education, art, reading/language laboratory, and when applicable, regular school classes.
